

Avshalom Levi: Artist Talk

Sunday May 8, 6:30-8:00 PM

Free and Open to the Public

Noted photographer, Avshalom Levi will discuss his project, "Sliding Doors," on view at Soho Photo Gallery May 3 to June 4, 2016.

Sliding Doors

"The Door of Hope is a shelter for prostitutes, drug addicts and homeless women in the old Central Bus Station of South Tel-Aviv, Israel. The shelter is a sanctuary where the women can find a respite from the streets. This series was made in 2008 over a period of six months. It is shot in black and white and hand-tinted as a way to look into their eyes, an action many avoid on the streets. The series is dedicated to a beautiful woman who is no longer with us."

Avshalom Levi

Avshalom Levi – Born in Jerusalem, Graduated at the Department of Photography, Hadassah College. Avshalom's photographic work in the realm of fashion and advertisement reveals a very unique personal approach, that has evolved during the six years he has worked in London and Paris. During this period his work was shown in numerous prestigious exhibitions. Avshalom's work is strongly influenced by Cartier Bresson, Duano, along with Irving Penn and Helmut Newton . Avshalom Levi is a very versatile Photographer and Artist, but his true passion lies in documentary work, and he has stayed with this art form throughout the years during which he has done fashion and advertisement related photography.

As a fashion photographer Avshalom does work for clients in Israel and internationally.